Foreword

TO the eyes of youth the Future is a fabric woven of the rose-colored thread of dreams on a warp of the golden threads of happiness. It is the wish of the staff of the 1925 TXWOCO that in the Afterwhile these pages may bring you a memory of the Past that will likewise be rose-tinted, and gleaming with golden rifts of gladness.

Dedication

IN the weaving of character she has employed the golden threads of integrity and purity, measured by the silver yard-stick of Christian womanhood; in loyal devotion she has taught others the patient art of weaving. We, the Senior Class dedicate the

A Word From the President

LIFE'S values are measured by the deposits we have made in the bank vaults of our memories. One of the coveted goals of us all is to be remembered. At a meeting of "old girls" the writer heard the following conversation:

"Do you remember the time we stayed awake and talked all night?"

"Yes! And do you remember the year that we were sophs? We did the most foolishly reckless thing in climbing the water tower to unfurl our colors. The most fun of all, however, was the year we gave the teachers a 'surprise party' on April first, absenting ourselves from all classes."

Thus as a group of Texas Woman's College "Ex's" talked, new bursts of laughter would punctuate the musical hum of voices when a forgotten "Do you remember—" was called back from the happy past. Professors with their peculiarities and eccentricities were remembered and discussed with interest. The teachers who knew how to teach, who were their friends, who had given them helpful advice, who had sympathized and loved, were exalted in their memories, and a halo of ineffable light fell upon them.

Some of these young women are holding positions of honor in home, church, state, and society just as these young women whose faces appear in this beautiful volume will be doing in the tomorrows. If we shall have made any contribution to life's picture, making its perspective true, its coloring cheerful, and its story real so that it will be remembered, we shall be satisfied.

Frederick B. Isely, M.S.
Dean and Professor of Biology

A Word From the Dean

THE American College in colonial times, as represented in Harvard, Yale, and William and Mary was established for the express purpose of training young men in order that they might become leaders in religious affairs.

As civilization advanced and womanhood began to gain her just and rightful place in educational plans and policies, we find men and women willing to give of their money and their lives that their daughters might have equal educational advantages with their sons. This purpose found expression in the founding of Vassar, Wellesley, Goucher, and—in a later day—in Texas Woman's College.

Texas Woman's College is a monument to the ideals of Christian citizenship. My fondest ambition for our College is that she may be worthy of her high calling, that students, faculty, and friends may stand as a unit in the promotion and perpetuation of an institution that puts a premium on true worth, that here in T. W. C. first things may be placed first. I hope that genuine merit shall ever be the basis for all awards.

I trust that through our studies and our associations, that through our work and our play, that through our aspirations and our prayers we have become habituated to higher thinking, better living, and broader sympathies. Let us confidently hope that all who have tarried in these College halls may worthily carry abroad the torch of Texas Woman's College idealism, and that our labors together in some small measure at least bear fruit in making a contribution to a better humanity.

THE passing of the year marks the crowning of ambition with achievement, and the span allotted to a college career is completed. It may be that the lesson of Omar has been learned:

"To gather something from everyone thou passest on the highway, and from every experience Fate sends thee . . . . and out of the wide knowledge thus gained of human weaknesses and human needs, to distill in thine own heart the precious oil of Sympathy . . . . And no man fills his crystal vase with it until he has first been pricked by the world's disappointment, and bowed by it's tasks."

We hold her to be the consummation of all human power; with a heart to resolve, a mind to contrive, and a hand to execute. Calm, resourceful, capable and true—she holds first place in our hearts.

Whatever success the class of '25 has had as Seniors is largely due to our devoted and untiring prexy. Like a certain warrior, she practices the motto, "Be sure you are right, then go ahead." Somehow this thought we always associate with her—"if she had only been a boy."

"Angels listen when she speaks;
She's my delight, all mankind's wonder."

HENRIETTA CLARK, B.S.

Koro; Home Economics Club; Ann Waggoner Club; Executive Board '23-'24, '25.

Serious earnestness in her student government responsibilities wondrously contradicts the nonsense she carries with her. At other times Henry is very pleasant company, for

"Little thou thinkest what a little foolery
Governs the world."

Her impeccable taste in art is revealed in the flawless pages of this book of memories. And when she strums on her ukulele and sings those dreamy, restful arias, we wonder if she forgets her own cares as perfectly as she makes ours to vanish away.

She has done in a little more than three years what it takes four years for the most of us to accomplish. She is the kind of girl who undertakes and meets any responsibility placed in her hands.

"Virtue in itself commands its happiness,
Of every outward object independent."

AUDREY DILLOW, B.S.
Fort Worth, Texas

Home Economics Club '22-'23; Panther City Club.

Audrey — whose dark eyes mirror the calm serenity of an untroubled soul. It has been said, and 'tis true, that woman hath no greater charm than subtlety, and subtlety, we are certain, is a charm she does not lack.

"Maiden! With the meek brown eyes,
Like the dust of evening skies."

In whatever walk of life one shall never find a dearer treasure of lovableness and beauty. She is the pride of her friends, and the joy of those who hope for great tasks successfully done.

"A celestial brightness—a more ethereal beauty
Shone on her face and encircled her form."

Her unchanging sweetness and loyalty direct as a beacon light all who dare hope for happiness equal to hers. The secret of it —not for herself, but for others she lives.

Neither elegance nor splendor characterizes her, but her modest charms of gentleness and devotion are deeper and more enduring by far than those of amazing fervor and display.

"She moves a goddess, and
She looks a queen."

We glorify in her the shadows of childhood, whose adorable traits she shall never be able to veil in the counterfeit of womanhood that she tries to assume. Myra's eternal youth and beauty have made her popularity inevitable.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever."

She is a general favorite, and a friend whom we all adore. She has filled a niche in our class and our hearts that no other could supply. Too, Johnnie is a splendid student. Her mind sparkles like her eyes.

"To know her was to love her;
None named her but to praise."

SUSIE DOWNING, A.B.

A veritable bundle of mischief she is, with occasional outbursts of her personal opinions. While to the world, and especially to her professors, she is the prototype of dignity and wisdom.

"The silence often of pure innocence
Persuades where speaking fails."

MARY E. NEELY, A.B.

She kept a still, fine reverence in her heart for the rights of others, and kept secure in the hearts of her fellow students a faith in human friendliness. Mary—one of the biggest and best of us; always doing something for the rest of us.

"She aimed not at glory;
No lover of glory she;
Give her the glory of going on and still to be."

ILDA ELROD, A.B.
Stephenville, Texas

Y. W. C. A. '23, '25; Press Club '25; Legislative Board '24-'25; T. I. P. A. '25.

To extol her genius in Journalism would be unfair to her successes in Spanish. One should be warned never to ask Ilda to write his character sketch, for she would be able to express it all too adequately in as few as twenty words.

"We grant that 'tho she had much wit
She was very shy of using it."

VIRGINIA MOORE, A.B.
Fort Worth, Texas

Koro; Y. W. C. A.; P. C. C. '22-'25; Vice President Senior Class; Baseball '25.

Ever content to be true and loyal—we should be content ever to know her as a friend. Sh!—she is the baby of the class; another whose four-year course was completed in three years.

"Learned and fair and good as she,
Time shall throw a dart at thee."

CATHERINE CARMICHAEL, A.B.
Fort Worth, Texas

P. C. C.; Koro; Legislative Board '25; Handout Staff '24; Hiking Club '22; Summer School '24.

Like a mystery couched within a cloud of grey. Quiet and unassuming—she perhaps intended to conceal her true self for the sake of sheer and beautiful modesty.

"The fairest garden in her look,
And in her mind the wisest books."

RETA O'BRYANT
Fort Worth, Texas

Koro; Y. W. C. A.; P. C. C.; Carl Venth Club '24; Zeigler Art Club '24-'25; Reporter to Txwoco '23; Reporter to Handout '24; Vice President Zeigler Art Club '24; Secretary and Treasurer Zeigler Art Club '25; Legislative Board '25.

Talent in art, loyalty of purpose and keenness of mind express in part this girl—Reta.

"A nameless yearning for an unknown goal,
A low insistent call."

ANNA BOLES, A.B.
Pecos, Texas

S. M. K.; Secretary S. M. K. '24; Vice President S. M. K. '24; Basket Ball '21, '24; Baseball '23, '25; Library Assistant '24-'25; House President Mulkey Hall '24-'25; Legislative Board '24-'25.

By striving onward through difficulties to the stars, Anna has gained with glorious success the honor that only few of us attain. A priceless girl is she, for

"A simple maiden in her flower
Is worth a hundred coats of arms."

GRANVILLE M. MARTIN, A.B.
Fort Worth, Texas

Koro; Y. W. C. A.; P. C. C. '22, '25; Legislative Board '24-'25.

Marriage a few years ago failed to suppress in her those literary ambitions which took form when she was a College Freshman. We are glad that Granville stayed with us to the end.

". . . her voice was ever soft,
Gentle, and low, an excellent thing in a woman."

LOREE TURNER, A.B.
Fort Worth, Texas

Koro; P. D. C.; Debate '23; Carl Venth Club '24-'25; Txwoco Staff '25; Handout Staff '24-'25; P. C. C. '22-'23, '24; Basket Ball '22, '23, '24, '25; Captain Basket Ball Team '24.

Since Freshman days Loree has been a star athlete, and with her heart of gold and her true blue loyalty, she flies T. W. C. colors at all times. She is a most amazing optimist, and carries into all the campus activiites the same amiabilities which she carries into a basket ball game. Our Loree

"...is always true and staunch."

EDITH B. LIGHTFOOT, A.B.
Fort Worth, Texas

Koro; P. C. C.; Glee Club; President Glee Club '23-'24; Treasurer Senior Class '24-'25.

It is little wonder that a minister married this lovely girl, for it seems that she was purposely endowed with beauty and happiness of spirit to refresh and gladden the hearts of others.

"Sweet promptings into kindest deeds
Were in her very look;
We read her face as one who reads
A true and holy book."

IVA LEE BRADFUTE, A.B.
Thornton, Texas

S. M. K.; Corresponding Secretary S. M. K. '23; President Boaz Benbrook '24-'25; Executive Board '23-'24; Legislative Board '24-'25; Senior Baseball Team.

She is like the sunshine after the storm. She is calm, radiant, capable, and true; the kind of girl our grandmothers all adore, and, strangely, too, the girl we secretly choose to pattern after.

"She's all my fancy painted her,
She's lovely, she's divine."

ADDIE LAVENDER, A.B.
Fort Worth, Texas

Koro; P. C. C. '21-'25; Reporter Txwoco '23; Reporter Txwoco '24; Art Club; Library Assistant '22-'25; Student Assistant in Mathematics '23-'24.

If one must be dignified to be a Senior, then Addie is not a Senior. Her wit and natural propensities dispel that pretentious thing called dignity. She is none the less loved by her classmates—indeed, we love her for that reason.

"Mirthful she is, and much joy
She doth dispense."

AGNES HUGHES, A.B.
Dallas, Texas

Agnes came to us in our Senior year. The introspective type—she gives weighty matters due deliberation, and always comes to the right conclusions. Intellectual and attractive—could one be more favored?

"There is no human charm that grips the soul
As sincere frankness."

MARGARET BLUME, A.B.
Fort Worth, Texas

Mrs. Blume—happily married. It is our misfortune that she has been with us only one term, but in even so short a time she has made a place for herself in our affections. A dispenser of sunshine; couldn't be a pessimist around her if you tried.

"Of gentle mein, of nature kind,
Of honest heart, believing mind."

GERTRUDE MAE MCFADDIN, B.M.
Port Arthur, Texas

Glee Club '23-'25; Vice President Glee Club '23-'24; President Glee Club '24-'25; Carl Venth Music Club '23-'25; President of Carl Venth Music Club '24-'25.

It is said that with talent and a willingness to spend long hours in practice one can go very far in music. Since this is true, we predict that Gertrude Mae will attain the success that so many desire, yet for which they despise to pay the requisite price.

"Her silver voice
Is like the music of a summer bird,
Heard in the still night."

FRANCIS HACKNEY, B.M.
Wortham, Texas

Koro; Legislative Board '24-'25; Ann Waggoner Club; Carl Venth Music Club.

Francis is a sunshine girl who seeks and finds pleasure wherever she goes. Sorrows, too, have invaded her sphere, and they, perhaps, are the thoughts that she imparts so beautifully when she gently fingers the keys.

"The soul of music slumbers in the shell
Till waked and kindled by the master's spell."

VIVIAN HARDER, B.M.
Fort Worth, Texas

Genius burns in her like a white flame, and permeates her whole personality. Her wholehearted endeavors in the sphere of music have taken much of her time, but she has still found hours in which to make friends, and we, all of us, love her.

"The harmony girl . . .
With never a discord
In all the days we have known her."

MARY NICKERSON ISLEY,
A.B. 1900, Fairmont; B.S. 1925, T. W. C.

The above picture of Mrs. Isley was made in nineteen hundred, when she received her A.B. We are proud to have her among our number as candidates for degrees this year. Everyone loves her, and she possesses more charm than anyone we know.

"There is a kind of character in thy life,
That doth thy history unfold."

THREE years ago about two hundred Freshmen came to Texas Woman's College, each with her own idea of college life, but all with a desire to acquire knowledge and at the same time, to participate in all the joys which campus life affords. They proved to be a lively bunch, full of pep, taking the lead in athletics, social, and religious life. The next year they held their place and increased their fame.

This year as Juniors they have decreased in numbers, but not in pep and enthusiasm. With Miss Kixmiller as Sponsor, they have been inspired to press forward to greater things. Next year they will be Seniors, looking forward to the places of service which life holds for them, leaving behind them the record of tasks well done.

Floy Friend

"Winning smiles light up her face
Which would make sunshine in a shady place."

Velvin Harris

"She moves serenely as a star
Never hasting, never resting."

THELMA LEE HORGER

"We remember the perfect waves in her hair,
Mischievous eyes, and her boyish air."

GLADYS JENNINGS

"The memory of her shall live,
Rose-crowned, in the hearts of all who know her."

JESSIE LOU KERSEY

"Winsome and fair—
Even the sun envied Jake's hair."

NAN LACKY

"A form more fair, a face more sweet,
Ne'er hath it been my lot to meet."

RUTH MITCHELL

"For never anything can be amiss
When simpleness and duty tender it."

MARIAN PADDOCK

"Her open eyes desire the truth.
The wisdom of a thousand years is in them."

"God gave her grace and tact and art,
So she lives and plays her part."

MAY TALLEY

"It's no matter what you do,
If your heart be only true."

GLADYS THURSTON

"And that smile, like sunshine, falls into many a sunless heart;
For a smile of God thy art."

HELEN TIDWELL

"A demure young lady of refined ana unassuming ways."

AMY WAGNER

"She liked whate'er she looked upon,
And her looks went everywhere."

Carol Wakefield

"With countenance demure, and modest grace."

Juanita Whitaker

"She Reminds one of a Spanish Senorita,
or a Gypsy maid
With the gaiety of Romany in her heart."

Ruth Winfield

"And still the wonder grew—
How one small head could carry all she knew."

President

THE Sophomore Class began its career in the year '23—a year of "haps and mishaps" for most of us, and a year of good times for the class as a whole. Freshmen, though proverbially green, are not always incapable of learning. Thus it is true that Freshmen of '24 that they came through the year a wiser and a better class in many respects.

The year '24-'25 has found the Sophomores, no longer verdant Freshmen, renewing their energies in the intellectual field, and attaining wonderful things in that and other fields as well. Especially remarkable has been the ingenuity and originality with which they have managed certain well known annual celebrations.

Indeed, the Sophomore Class, because of its rapid development, may be termed "the growing class" of Texas Womans' College—a class that is growing in the threefold way toward a higher and a more beautiful state of young womanhood. May it continue to grow in a wonderful way and enrich the life of its Alma Mater until that final day when it shall bid her farewell as a Senior Class of '27.

Sophomore Week

AS a united class, we, the Sophomores, endeavored to make Sophomore Week the most profitable and enjoyable of the year. Sophomore Week was a time devoted to Service, Scholarship, Sticktuiveness, and Sociability. We tried hard to keep Selfishness from entering in, and thruout it all we strove to serve by remembering this—"Cooperation and not Competition." The element of service was characterized by the fitting memorial which we gave to the school.

There are girls in our class who all along have stood high in Scholarship, and they are indeed girls of whom we are proud. "Let us all go a step or two higher in Scholarship."

During the week we checked up on the number of girls who will be back next year as Juniors. Realizing that there is often a tendency to drop out after the second year, it was urged that all think wisely, and "stick by" the class of '27.

To be sure that everyone saw to the fact that Sociability was not neglected, the thread of social life was interwoven among our regular duties and everyone received a goodly share of enjoyment.

AS Freshmen, we are now nearing the end of our first College year, and we give up the name of Freshmen with a tinge of regret, but happy in the feeling that we have been successful in what we have attempted. We had dreamed a dream of College, and that dream has come to pass more fully than we had dared hope. For was not our dream Utopian, while the fulfillment was Life?

Our aim has been to be victorious even in defeat, and our creed that of a "good Sport," and in these we feel that we have not failed.

So, gloriously we seek other fields to conquer, proud that we have been Freshmen.

The Thespian Club

THE Thespian Club in T. W.C. furnishes an opportunity for the cultural and social enjoyment of dramatic art. It provides an opportunity for creative work along the lines of play production, as well as developing the dramatic abilities of its members in stage performances and acting.

The Club is composed of a group of girls working hard under the difficult taskmistress Art. With mind, body, and soul, these followers of Thespian, the first actor, have striven to interpret the wonders and beauties of histrionic art. The productions of the club have been varied, ranging from the tense love scenes of "The Romancers" to the clever and laughable situations of "The Trysting Place." There have been farce, comedy, and tragedy. There have been smiles and tears.

Too, the club sponsored the performance of Edward Abner Thompson, America's greatest dramatic reader.

Here's to the Thespians, who have made our year in T. W. C. more profitable and more interesting.

THE Methodist Student Federation had its origin February 3, 1923, at Georgetown, for the purpose of discussing the religious situation among Methodist students in State Colleges, and to improve the situation.

The Federation was organized in Texas Woman's College in October, 1924, with Mary E. Neely as President, and with the following departments functioning: Department of Inspiration, Department of Extension, Department of Recreation, and Department of Missions.

The Methodist Student Federation of Texas met at Texas Woman's College February 7-9, 1925, with a large representation from eighteen Colleges and Universities of the State.

Conditions for spiritual development have been in every way favorable on the campus during the entire year.

The Inter-Society Debate

AN interesting event on the calendar of each of the two literary societies was the inter-society debate which occurred in the auditorium of the Main Building on the afternoon of Thursday, March 5th.

The subject for debate was: "Resolved, that examinations should be abolished in college." The Korosophian debaters defended the affirmative side of the question, while the Susan M. Key debaters defended the negative. The decision favored the S. M. K's.

Debaters for the affirmative:

MARY E. NEELY

ELIZABETH ROBINSON

Debaters for the negative:

SUSAN M. KEY

The Susan M. Key Literary Society

THE Susan M. Key Literary Society, which is the oldest society on the campus, was organized in honor of the wife of Bishop Joseph Key. This year the society is stronger, both in number and in power, than it has ever been.

The four-fold purpose of the society tends to develop the girl socially, mentally, morally, and physically. Through literature, music and art, the society aims to develop the mind and create a beautiful character. By lovely thoughts, words, and deeds, all of which are qualities of Mrs. Key, the girl is developed morally: by taking part in all the athletics and sports, as the society urges each member to do, the girl obtains her physical development.

This year the society first gave a picnic in honor of the new girls, and later gave a tea in the parlors of Ann Waggoner Hall. The Chapel stunt, initiation, and various other social affairs have also been features of the year.

In summing up the purpose of the society, it stands for the full rounded development of each girl, so that she may be better fitted to take her place in life and render every service possible.

Life Service Band

"PRAY ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that He send forth laborers into His harvest." God has provided adequate means by which His kingdom may be supplied with workers.

The Life Service Band of Texas Woman's College is composed of young women who have felt the call to definite service, and have responded willingly, saying, "Here am I, Lord, send me." Some of them are planning to serve Him in foreign fields, while others plan to do various phases of home work.

Positions of responsibility on the Campus are filled largely with life service girls. Most of the officers of the student body, executive, social, and literary, are members of this band.

This organization stands for the highest type of Christian womanhood. Our leader and advisor, Mrs. Hargrove, sets an example worthy to be followed, and it is thru her leadership that the band has attained the high place it now holds.

BASKETBALL

Miss Parrish can truly boast of both a splendid team and a team of splendid players. But every one who ever saw this team in action marvels at the power behind the throne. She is a coach who allows no detail of scientific playing to be overlooked, and who includes the highest principles of sportsmanship that are so often neglected. A true sportswoman herself—she teaches others how to be.

JOSEPHINE KINNON
Captain and Forward

"That pretty little black haired forward! Boy! just watch her! She can't miss!", Heard often from the side lines about Joe—and it's all true. Besides playing her sure, winning game at forward, she has been thru the season an inspiring, helpful and cheerful captain that we could not have done without. Every member of the team will always remember and cherish the season of play and practice with such a leader.

LOREE TURNER
Guard

Loree plays like Jack Dempsey fights, on toes, always vigilant and never losing. The sad part to tell is that this has been her last year of college basket ball. She has been an invaluable asset to the T. W. C. team for four years, and capped the climax by making this her best year. Every old girl's heart held a feeling of sadness when the final whistle of the last T. C. U. game, they saw Loree leave the court, having played her last minute of college basket ball. She will never be forgotten in T. W. C.

RUTH CHRISTIANSEN
Jumping Center

Ruth had a sly way of getting the tip-off. However mysterious, it works to good advantage. She plays a fast game in center, both on the defensive and offensive. She was particularly capable at dodging an opponent to receive a pass, and equally as capable in a dribble and a pass to the forward zone.

GLENNA HOLLOWAY
Forward

As a Freshman, Glenna has played a season of basket ball that shows promise of victories to come. If she gets any better, then T. W. C. is destined beforehand to be a champion. With a wiry, never-failing strength, Glenna covers a forward zone to perfection. Shooting from nearly any position, her field goals ring true; at foul shooting she exhibits an ability almost uncanny. She and Joe attained a sure passing teamwork that put our team on top this year.

SUE LINDSAY
Guard

"Soosie" has been called "the cleanest and yet fastest guard played against" by some of the forwards of the opposing teams, and it may be well said. Not many shots reached the basket when Sue jumped for the ball, and once she got hands on it her fast dribble and sure shot to center was always the beginning of a score for T. W. C. She has been the other half of a guarding machine hard to beat.

ANNIE WOOD HOWELL
Jumping Center

If everyone pursued their labors with the earnestness with which Annie Wood plays basket ball, great wonders would be accomplished. Her determination inspired every member of the team. Especially in the last three games, did Annie Wood win laurels for herself. She seemed to be on springs in the tip-off. and was in every play in the center, usually coming out with the ball. Forwards could usually expect a sure pass from her.

Floy Friend
Forward

Beautiful floor-work and wonderfully looped shots are the outstanding features of Floy's playing. She is a forward who contributes her share of breath-taking plays, and is one of the most loyal wearers of the Maize and Blue. Floy is a forerunner of Victory.

Edna Boles
Side Center

Edna was a close match for Tom in center, so close, in fact, that it was hard to distinguish which was the better player. Edna was sure on her feet, fast, and an accurate passer. The jumping center felt that she had someone to depend upon to get the ball when tipped, and forwards could depend on Edna's being there to receive a pass back to center. She was always faithful to practice, cheerful, and a jolly sport.

Tom Roach
Side Center

Tom has played herself into our very hearts. It would give anyone joy to watch her on the court. Miss Parrish says "There's one girl who never stops." She plays a fast, quick, dodging game, with sure passing, and an extraordinary ability at grabbing balls out of the air high above her reach. Many a time when she jumped it looked as if she were bound for a hard fall. Like the cat, however, she always lands on her feet, prepared to shoot the ball to a forward. She was indispensable to our Championship Team.

"BE CLEAN"

I want that girl of mine to be
  Square to the last and final letter;
From taint or cunning wholly free.
  I want her to love honor better
Than victory and silver things
Which contest in a struggle brings.

"Clean as a hound's tooth!" that's the phrase
  Once by our leader, Roosevelt spoken,
Who loved the sportsman's manly ways,
  And valued truth beyond a token;
Better to lose with conscience clean
Than win by methods false and mean.

I want her to observe the rules,
  Be fair in desperate circumstances;
To know that cunning's used by fools
  Who fear to take the harder chances!
That with the victory of deceit
The victor quits the field a cheat.

I want her to play hard to win,
  But not make victory her master;
Whatever game she enters in
  Though she must triumph or disaster
I want her coming home a woman
As clean as when the game began.

Oh, girl of mine, let sportsmanship
  Never for any gain desert you;
If on yourself you keep your grip
  There is no failure that can hurt you;
You shall have more than prizes mean,
If you have kept your record clean.

—Edgar A. Guest.

COLLEGE LIFE

MYRA—"Did you enjoy the Ritz last night?"

ESTELLE—"Well, I thought it was too realistic."

MYRA—"Really?"

ESTELLE—"Yes; it said on the program, 'one hour is supposed to elapse between the first and second acts,' and it really did."

* * * * *

MISS SPRAGGINS—"Mary, is there anything you can do better than anybody else?"

MARY NOEL—"Yes, Ma'am; read my own writing."

* * * * *

"Any girl can be gay in a classy coupe,
In a taxi they all can be jolly;
But the girl worth while, is the girl who can smile
When you're taking her home on the trolley."

* * * * *

MRS. HARMON—"My dear, where did your wonderful string of pearls come from? You don't mind my asking, do you?"

ANN CHRISTIANSEN—"Certainly not. They came from oysters."

* * * * *

MINNIE WILLIS—"Do you like Kipling?"

KATHERINE CAMPBELL—"I don't know, how do you kipple?"

* * * * *

He who laughs last is usually the dumbest.

Miss Collins—"What's the matter, Ilda?"

Ilda Elrod—"Why, I wrote a long, flowing article on milk and the editor's condensed it."

* * * * *

"Your school is not a college, it's a match factory," said a smart young college man to a T. W. C. girl.

"You're right," said the girl. "We furnish the heads, and get the sticks from the men's colleges."

* * * * *

George—"What could be more sad than a man without a country?"

Marion McCaslin—"A country without a man."

* * * * *

Mr. Cowgill—"What is the difference between a drama and a melodrama?"

Susie Downing—"Well, in a drama the heroine throws the villain over. In a melodrama she throws him over the cliff."

* * * * *

Judge—"Why did you throw the dictionary at your husband?"

"Oh, well, I was trying to work a cross-word puzzle, and I asked him to tell me a word of five letters meaning domestic happiness, and he wouldn't do it."

* * * * *

Mr. Hardt—"Ruth, what can you tell me about nitrates?"

Ruth Carney—"Well,—er—they're a lot cheaper than day rates."

* * * * *

"Joe, Adelle Carter talks a great deal, doesn't she?"

"Yes, I think she must have been vaccinated with a phonograph needle."

* * * * *

David—"Have you seen the new balloon tires?"

Johnnie—"Why, who ever heard of a balloon needing tires?"

* * * * *

Miss Petty—"How did you get your cold?"

President Stout—"Got Chile on the radio last night."

* * * * *

"Are you laughing at me?" demanded Mr. Stuart.

"No." came the answer in chorus."

"Well," insisted Mr. Stuart. "What else is there in the room to laugh at?"

IN sincere devotion to our Alma Mater and to the daughters who will take our places in her halls, we dedicate this expression of our love for her.

GERTRUE MAE MCFADDEN.

ALMA MATER

In the heart of dear old Texas,
Where the sweet blue-bonnets grow,
Stands a cherished Alma Mater
And it's there our mem'ries go;
Where the maize and blue are waving,
Where the Southern breezes play,
Pride of Texas, Alma Mater,
'Tis of you we sing today.

Chorus

Oh! Texas Woman's College,
Pride of the Lone Star State,
Though years be swiftly fleeting,
We never shall forget
To bring to you, our college,
Hearts that are fond and true,
Your daughters will ever be faithful,
Bringing tribute and praise to you.

'Round your stately walls of knowledge,
Linger mem'ries fond and dear
Of your counsel, truth, and wisdom
And of friends from far and near;
And we make this sacred promise
That we'll ever bring to you
Tribute, praise, and love, and homage,
Alma Mater, hail to you!

The Afterword

THE golden sands of time run swiftly through the hour glass, and sunset follows close on sunrise. With the even-tide the weaver pauses, and looks upon the design which he has that day woven. If it be finished, he cuts it from the loom, and lays it aside with his shuttles and measuring rod.

The college year of nineteen hundred twenty-five is drawing to a close. We, even as the weaver, pause and regard the fruit of our labors—the eleventh volume of the Txwoco. In it we see many imperfections, but we ask you to judge us kindly, and to let your thoughts linger longest on those colors and lines which please you most of the fabric which we have woven.

—THE STAFF.

ADVERTISEMENTS

The First Post Office

In America is said to have been established in a private house near Boston, in the year 1639. Foreign mails were received and distributed then. Often months—sometimes six—elapsed before letters reached destinations that today would require but a few hours.

Now you can write to our mail order department and get practically the same prompt delivery as if you phoned your order right here in the city. Of course, we get many orders from a distance, too, and these go out just as fast as modern transportation moves! Our prompt service bids for your mail order patronage.
